China International Hardware Show

中國上海國際五金展

10/10-12/2019 National Exhibition and Convention Center (Shanghai)

As the number one trading platform for the hardware industry in Asia, CIHS provides important access to more high-quality buyers. CIHS 2019 will continue and further develop the business matchmaking system and invite professional buyers from China and abroad in advance for one-on-one matchmaking by specialists before the exhibition. CIHS will secure opportunities for on-site business consultation for exhibitors to make the exhibition more efficient. As CIHS maintains its advantages in traditional procurement channels in Europe and the Americas, it increases the recruitment and promotion for buyers and visitors in emerging markets in Asia to create a genuine one-stop business and trading platform for domestic and export sales.

The industry forum at CIHS 2019 will focus on industry trends, inviting experts from the Chinese National Hardware Association and EDRA/GHIN who will provide insight into the import/export data of hardware products in China, new procurement standards for hardware tools and product retailers in Europe and other popular topics. This will open bilateral trading channels for promoting Chinese hardware companies overseas and introducing foreign brands into China.

CIHS 2019 will take place at the National Exhibition and Convention Center (Shanghai) from 10-12 October 2019. To learn more about China International Hardware Show, please visit www.hardwareshow-china.com
